The Monarch Butterflies
7 Days and 6 Nights (February 21, 2020)

Every year, after traveling more than 5,000 kilometers from Canada to Mexico, the weary Monarchs descend upon the same Oyamel Woods located in the highest part of the Michoacán Mountains. This remote portion of Mexico has become a sanctuary for the majestic Monarch which hibernates here before traveling north to the United States and Canada. No other place in the world hosts these amazing and wonderful creatures.
